

APRIL BUSINESS TRENDS VERSUS PRIOR YEAR
CONSOLIDATED SALES +13% Consolidated sales increased +13% YOY for the month of April. Sales +12% excluding the impact of day count. Currency effects +3%. Underlying sales growth reflects strong overall pricing trends, and volume growth in all geographic regions.
NORTH AMERICA Sales +11% YOY, and +9% excluding the impact of day count. Acquisitions +3%. Strong YOY pricing comparisons. On-site, merchant, and packaged gases sales all above prior year. Steady demand for merchant products and packaged gases across the US. Softness in Canada.	EUROPE Sales +20% YOY, +9% ex-currency. Higher sales driven by volume growth and higher pricing supported by pass-through of higher power costs.
SOUTH AMERICA Sales +14% YOY, +9% ex-currency. Sales growth was driven by higher on-site, merchant, and packaged gas sales.	ASIA Sales +15% YOY, +10% ex-currency. Underlying sales growth from higher volumes in China, India and Korea. Strong new business activity.
PST Sales +4% YOY, +17% ex-aviation repair divestiture. Currency +5%. Continued strong global demand for OEM aviation coatings and higher pricing.

The information provided in this report reflects one month's business activity (except where noted otherwise) and does not necessarily reflect longer-term business trends or suggest financial results for the current quarter or for future reporting periods. Unless specified, trends are not adjusted for differing numbers of sales days. The monthly sales data is unaudited.

This document contains "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These statements are based on management's reasonable expectations and assumptions as of the date the statements are made but involve risks and uncertainties. These risks and uncertainties include, without limitation: the performance of stock markets generally; developments in worldwide and national economies and other international events and circumstances; changes in foreign currencies and in interest rates; the cost and availability of electric power, natural gas and other raw materials; the ability to achieve price increases to offset cost increases; catastrophic events; the ability to attract, hire, and retain qualified personnel; the impact of changes in financial accounting standards; the impact of tax and other legislation and government regulation in jurisdictions in which the company operates; the cost and outcomes of litigation and regulatory agency actions; continued timely development and market acceptance of new products and applications; the impact of competitive products and pricing; future financial and operating performance of major customers and industries served; and the effectiveness and speed of integrating new acquisitions into the business. These risks and uncertainties may cause actual future results or circumstances to differ materially from the projections or estimates contained in the forward-looking statements. The company assumes no obligation to update or provide revisions to any forward-looking statement in response to changing circumstances. The above listed risks and uncertainties are further described in Item 1A (Risk Factors) in the company's latest Annual Report on Form 10-K filed with the SEC which should be reviewed carefully. Please consider the company's forward-looking statements in light of those risks.